

LPG Training

Certificate of Competence

This certificate is awarded to

Ian Cowan

Who has successfully completed the following LPG training and assessment course

STGW 100 - Gas Safety Touring Caravans and Motorhomes

In accordance with the Standards of Training in Gas Work (STGW) issued by the Institution of Gas Engineers & Managers'. The above named candidate has been assessed and deemed competent in the following elements:

- 1 Gas safety Legislation, Regulations and Standards
- 2 LPG safety
- 3 Properties and characteristics of LPG
- 4 Safe storage of LPG
- 5 Pressure and flow
- 6 Pipework (rigid and flexible)
- 7 Combustion and its control
- 8 Appliances - Space heating, water heating, cooking

Certificate number 23/112 Date of issue 03/04/2023 Expiry date 30/03/2028

Ian Oultram MIGEM
Authorised Signatory

eCert Electronic certificate

This certificate has been issued based on the named individual having successfully undertaken training and assessment in the category (or categories) detailed overleaf.

Issued by: LPG Training and valid between the dates shown overleaf.

This certificate is only valid when the following conditions are complied with:

1. Each assessment has been correctly administered at an authorised location by an approved assessor holding a suitable and valid qualification
2. The assessment category forms part of the normal work activities of the named technician
3. That no false or misleading information was supplied to LPG Training at the time of application

Photocopies of this certificate should not be accepted as genuine.

The information contained in this certificate may be validated by contacting LPG Training by telephone +44 (0)1244 539997 or email mail@lpctraining.co.uk

Technicians are reminded that it is entirely their responsibility to ensure their knowledge remains current. Standards and legislation are subject to constant change and this certificate only proves compliance at the date of issue.

Misuse of this certificate may lead to its withdrawal or cancellation.

This certificate remains the property of LPG Training and must be returned on request.

LPG TRAINING
United Kingdom